- Take Quality into Our Own Hands

Habersham Metal Products Company (Habersham) was established in November 1954 to manufacture engineered steel doors and frames. Plant operation began in March 1955 in a 4,950 sq.-ft. building with just a handful of employees.

Today, as we celebrate 60 years of continuous operation, Habersham is a leading manufacturer of Life Safety metal products. More than 120 employees work together in over 194,000 sq.-ft. of office and manufacturing space to produce quality products by which others in the industry are measured. Our product line includes bullet resistant, sound retardant, fire rated, FEBR and blast rated doors and related products for many commercial and institutional applications. Habersham steel doors and frames are specified and used in detention, correctional, and high security facilities worldwide.

Habersham has built an excellent reputation for quality and service. We produce the highest quality custom steel doors and frames, windows, chase units and wall panels in the correctional industry. We are proud of our team and our commitment to produce a diversified line of quality products. Our products are built to exacting standards, so you can depend on the security performance of a Habersham product for the life of your facility.
